A note from the editor

It has been a turbulent year with terrorism and migration dominating the global news bringing challenges and uncertainty. This has made us appreciate our community and the love of family and friends even more during this holiday period. St Michael's church has seen many changes this year, the highlight of which has definitely been the arrival of our new chaplain, Fr Anthony, and his wife Fiona. Church members have worked together as a team in welcoming them to our community and enjoying the changes and stability they have brought to us. We have been blessed by their arrival.

I spent Christmas in England this year but have heard lovely stories of beautiful services and the true spirit of friendship and fellowship felt at St Michael's. I also believe that Fr Anthony and Fiona's young granddaughter, Jessica, brought youthful enthusiasm and optimism to the Christmas services!

This is a short edition of the Messenger, with our main contributors taking a well earned rest, so I shall leave you with best wishes for a healthy and safe 2016 along with some fine photos of St Michael's at Christmas. I look forward to hearing from you or seeing you in the New Year.
